

ATHLETES IN LIVELY CANVASS FOR VOTES

Ten Men in Competition for Five Places on Registration Committee.

OFFICERS ARE UNOPPOSED

Harold J. Dibblee Among New Men Favored for Elcc-

Electioneering has been in full blast during the past week for the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U., which will be held to-avenues. There is not likely to be any attack on the chief officers who have governed the affairs of the local athletes so effectively for many years and though President James E. Sullivan will be absent from the deliberations for the second time in the more than twenty years existence of the association, there is no the least doubt that he will be selected by unanimous vote. Fred W. Rubien again will be vice-president if he cares to accept the responsibility, while so far no opposition has developed to Andrew Tully, the capable secretary.

The executive committee, the mainpring of the practical administration of athletic law, which is sought by at least double the number of candidates than there are places. Last spring it was determined to increase this important committee from three to five members. The result was that no candidate was found that no candidates had obtained a majority of the vote. The matter was dropped then, but in the natural order of events there will have places to duities of this committee, an three of the men who weathered the storms of the past year are ready to take office again should they receive the indorsement of the members of the board of managers. These are Jacob W. Stumpf, chairman; John M. Connolly and George P. Mathews. There is a general feeling that the registra-

Jersey should be represented. If Con-bally effects to represent the Second Naval Lyceum, instead of the Dominican Lyceum, which he represented last year, the question may come up whether it is advisable to have two men from Brooklyn on the committee as there would be

J. M. Connolly denies the sworn statement of Thomas F. Corley that he (Connolly) attempted to use his influence as a member of the registration committee in having Corley's suspension lifted, provided he joined the Dominican Lyceum. Connolly explains the circumstances as toward the latter part of February, but in the middle of January, as he states, a few weeks prior to the termination of his sixty days' suspension, as his letter of March 19, 1911, to Jacob Stumpf confirms. At that meeting Mr. Corley asked if any further action was taken in his case and expressed regret for the action causing his suspension, which he attributed to his youth and his ignorance of the belled through US officials to adhere to the rules in the future. He signed one of the Club's application blanks, which I never submitted for the Dominican Lyceum's approval because under further consideration I did not believe him to be the calibre of a youth that I could consistently recommend for membership. Those present besides Mr. Corley and myself were Mr. Arenholz of Dominican Ly-venting Corley from going from a small club to the Knights of St. Antony, owing, as he says, to my desire to secure him for Dominicans, such a statement hardly bears the light of investigation when, in the first place, his application never was submitted, and, secondly, I severed my athletic affiliation with Dominican Lyceum toward the middle of April."

One of the men most favorably spoken of among the new candidates is Harry J. Dibblee of the Seventy-first Regiment, A. A. The regiments play an important most of the prominent athletes are members of the National Guard and it is thought only right that they should be represented on the committee. There is no harder worker for amateur athletics than Dibblee, who also is a power in the cycling world, and as he has the indorse-

Three Jersey towns have candidates in John J. Flanagan, Belleville C. C., Newark; Charles A. Elbert, Anchor A. C., Jersey City, and J. P. Burke, Knickerbocker R. and A. C., Paterson. With the idea prevailing that Jersey should have a

St. Bartholomew A. C. is another hard worker who received many votes in the futile election held in the spring. He will be named this time with a fair prospect of success. Others who are being well supported are P. J. Sullivan, Glencoe A. C., and J. Boherman, Mohawk A. C.

about 110 clubs have qualified to vote by paying their dues within the prescribed time. Herman Obertullesing, the incumbent, is again a candidate, and the remunerative character of the office has led P. L. Waters of the Loughlin Lyceum to enter the field against him. The work of Iselin Member of Syndicate.

NEWPORT, Sept. 14.—C. Oliver Iselin also will be a member of the syndicate to finance the building of a boat at Herreshoff.

and Mrs. Iselin have been here for a week and Mr. Iselin has been to Bristol a number of times conferring with Capt. Nat Herreshoff relative to the design of the new boat. He was in Bristol again to-day and while he was away it was learned that he had become a member of

Beer for Its Purity——or Its Flavor—

ertan
Gold Label

Completely! Order a Case!